

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A wire connector includes a main body, an upper cover, an upper cutter, a lower cover, and a lower cutter. Thus, the oblique jaw portions of the pliers are closely urged on the oblique faces of the action portions of the upper 5 . cover and the lower cover, so that the upper cover and the lower cover are . pressed by the pair of pliers to move into the receiving chamber of the main body smoothly and conveniently without incurring deflection.